GMHAT
Leadership Training Program on Screening and Management of Mental Disorders

www.iihmr.edu.in

Background

Mental health and wellbeing are important aspects of public health, but the authorities have given very little attention to this field in the low and middle-income countries. South Asian region have a high disease burden of mental disorders. A systematic review conducted in 2020 showed a prevalence of 14.2 percent for common mental disorders. Similar trends have also been seen from South America and Africa. According to the National Mental Health Survey, approximately 150 million people in India need care for their mental health problems. Between 70 to 92 percent of these cases failed to receive treatment. COVID-19 pandemic further added to the unmet mental health needs of these populations. The personal, family, and social impact of COVID-19 is likely to last for a very long time.

The world should be committed towards improving access to mental healthcare and treatment to communities without discrimination. The World Health Organisation's Sustainable Development Goal 3 (targets 3.4 and 3.5) are directly related to mental health and substance abuse. Premature mortality from noncommunicable diseases can also be reduced through promoting mental health and providing treatment and care of mental disorders. However, early detection of mental illness and their timely management remain an important public health challenge due to lack of trained mental health care professionals at the periphery.

The Global Mental Health Assessment Tool (GMHAT) offers a practical solution to address this challenge. GMHAT/PC is a semi-structured, computer assisted clinical assessment tool that is developed to assist health workers in making quick, convenient, and comprehensive standardized mental health assessments in both primary and general health care.

'SD Gupta School of Public Health' (SDG SPH) at IIHMR University, Jaipur, India is collaborating with Centre for Autism, Neurodevelopmental disorders and Intellectual Disabilities (CANDDID, Cheshire and Wirral Partnership (CWP), NHS Foundation Trust and University of Manchester, UK, to work on building and strengthening capacities of healthcare functionaries as well as caregivers towards improving community's mental health and wellbeing through this structured skill oriented training program.

Objectives

The virtual training program aims at strengthening and promoting mental health care and services. The specific objectives of this program are:

- Develop effective leadership skills for timely screening and management of mental health issues
- Improve skills to assess, detect and deal with mental disorders using GMHAT/PC; and
- Strengthen information systems, evidence and research for mental health.

Learning objectives: At the end of the training, the participants will be able to

- Understand the role of leadership skills in mental health" and assess own leadership styles.
- Gain knowledge of common mental disorders.
- Improve communication and interviewing skills.
- Use GMHAT/PC in various settings.

Methodology

The program adopts virtual, participatory, and experiential approach. The concepts will be explained, which will be followed by hands-on exercises and demonstration by the participants. They will get ample opportunity to translate the concepts discussed into strategy and operational plans in their respective area or organization. This will include:

- Interactive sessions
- Self-assessment of leadership styles
- GMHAT/PC hands on approach of interviewing.
- Assessment of professional judgement (using observation and feedback) - Scoring of videos, Inter-rater agreements.

Scope of Work

SOW: Developing Leadership and Mentoring Curriculum for the Community Health Officers (CHOs)

Background and Objective

Jhpiego is an international non-profit organization (www.jhpiego.org). Jhpiego works in India across various health areas such as maternal child health, family planning, comprehensive primary health care (CPHC) in collaboration with Government of India (GOI).

NISHTHA is a flagship health systems strengthening project supported by USAID and being implemented by Jhpiego. NISHTHA aims to transform, redesign and re-engineer primary healthcare in India to meet the goals of provisioning equitable, comprehensive and client-centred primary health care that contributes to improved health outcomes for India's marginalized and vulnerable populations, especially women and girls. NISHTHA is working closely with National and State Governments to strengthen the Ayushman Bharat-Health and Wellness Centres (AB-HWCs) platform to achieve the goal of strengthening comprehensive primary healthcare. The project is providing technical support to MoHFW at national level and state governments across 12 states, Madhya Pradesh, Chhattisgarh, Odisha, Assam, Jharkhand and seven north eastern states (Meghalaya, Manipur, Sikkim, Tripura, Nagaland, Mizoram and Arunachal). Apart from strengthening the primary healthcare service delivery system, as part of USAID's COVID-19 emergency response funding (ERF), NISHTHA is also supporting Government of India (GOI) and state governments for putting a comprehensive response to COVID -19 at primary care and community level.

Leadership Curriculum for CHOs:

Profile of CHOs: The National Health Policy, 2017 recommended strengthening the delivery of primary health care, through establishment of HWCs as the platform to deliver CPHC. HWCs mark a paradigm shift in GoI's vision - from curative to preventive and promotive healthcare, with a strong focus on wellness of targeted communities through effective primary healthcare teams led by a Community Health Officer (CHO). A CHO can be a staff nurse or an Ayurveda practitioner trained in a six months Certificate Course in Community Health (CCCH) through Indira Gandhi National Open University (IGNOU) or any state led university. Under Ayushman Bharat, it is envisaged that CHOs will lead the primary healthcare teams for ensuring effective delivery of quality CPHC closer to the homes of people.

Rationale for a Leadership Curriculum for CHOs: Being a newly introduced cadre at the HWCs, there is strong need to empower the CHOs to perform effectively and efficiently for delivering respectful and quality care. A CHO not only provides basic health services but also has to manage and lead a primary healthcare team at a HWC. The HWCs, staffed with multi-purpose workers (male and female) and Accredited Social Health Activists (ASHAs) are led by a CHO. There is a possibility that the more experienced staff at HWCs may resent being led by relatively less experienced CHOs leading to conflicts within the team. CHOs need to be prepared in such a way that they get ingrained into the system as a strong leader who can motivate the primary healthcare team, communicate effectively, lead by example, be supportive, and build a good rapport with the beneficiaries and community. However, implementation experience so far reveals that the quality of CHOs varies across different states – while some CHOs are highly driven and self-motivated, others need constant handholding to achieve the desired results. There are reported instances of conflicts within the primary healthcare team due to lack of role clarity, and other systemic issues. In the initial need assessment done by NISHTHA project in NISHTHA implemented states, majority of the CHOs have expressed the need for mentoring and supportive supervision, to help them in effective delivery of their duties.

While a few topics on leadership and management are a part of the IGNOU curriculum, mere theoretical knowledge is insufficient to overcome most field challenges. There is a need to harness the mentoring and leadership skills of CHOs and address this challenge using a more structured approach. Hence, this incubation model envisages to develop a Leadership Curriculum for CHOs in order to prepare them for a leadership role and position them as one of the key pillars of the CPHC team of in HWCs. Moreover, the current year being the International year of Nurses and Midwives, the leadership curriculum for strengthening the CHO cadre, of which majority are nurses, comes at the most opportune time wherein there is a global momentum to invest in nursing and midwifery workforce.

Proposed Model: NISHTHA will roll out the Leadership and mentoring Curriculum for good performing CHOs in collaboration with State Governments of its intervention states. The CHOs undergoing this training will be certified as 'CHO Leaders' which will enable them to function as 'agents of change' for delivery of CPHC services. It is envisaged that the CHO Leadership Curriculum will equip the trained CHO Leaders with newer skills such as leadership, management, conflict resolution, interpersonal communication, critical thinking etc. and help them achieve the desired results through a team based approach. The trained CHO Leaders will also be assigned as mentors to the newly inducted CHOs for enhancing their confidence and performance. This training will aim to inculcate the concept of leadership among the CHOs from the beginning of training. Further, a mechanism of CHO peer mentoring will also be established as one of the probable avenues of career progression for better performing CHOs, similar to the ASHA Facilitator/ ASHA Sahyogini model.

Goal

CHO Leadership and Mentoring Curriculum aims to transform selected good performing CHOs into competent and confident leaders of the primary health care teams for provision of quality health care to the targeted communities, through well-functioning HWCs.

Objectives

1. To develop and enhance leadership skills of the CHOs
2. To recognize and reward well performing CHOs through building their leadership skills

1) General Requirements:

- a) The Contractor shall maintain a code or standards of conduct that shall govern the performance of its officers, employees or agents engaged in the awarding and administration of subcontracts using funds provided by JHPIEGO. No employee, officer or agent shall participate in the selection, award or administration of a subcontract in which JHPIEGO-provided funds are used, where, to that individual's knowledge, the individual or the individual's immediate family, partners or organization in which the individual or the individual's immediate family or partners has financial interest or with whom that individual is negotiating or has any arrangement concerning prospective employment. The Contractor's officers, employees or agents shall neither solicit nor accept gratuities, favors or anything of monetary value from subcontractors or potential subcontractors. Such standards shall provide for disciplinary actions to be applied for violation of such standards by the Contractors' officers, employees or agents.
- b) All procurement transactions shall be conducted in a manner to provide, to the maximum extent practical, open and free competition. The Contractor should be alert to organizational conflicts of interest or noncompetitive practices among subcontractors that may restrict or eliminate competition or otherwise restrain trade. In order to ensure objective Contractors performance and eliminate unfair competitive advantage, contractors that develop or draft specifications, requirements, statements of work, invitations for bids and/or requests for proposals should be excluded from competing for such procurements. Awards shall be made to the bidder/offeror whose bid/offer is responsive/responsible to the solicitation and is most advantageous to the Contractor, price and other factors considered. Solicitations shall clearly set forth all requirements that the bidder/offeror must fulfill in order to be evaluated by the Contractor. Any and all bids/offers may be rejected when it is the Contractor's interest to do so
- c) All Contractors shall establish procurement procedures that provide for, at a minimum, the following procedural requirements:
 - (1) Proposed procurement actions shall follow a procedure to assure the avoidance of purchasing unnecessary or duplicative items. Where appropriate, an analysis shall be made of lease and purchase alternatives to determine which would be the most economical practical procurement.

- (2) Solicitations of goods and services shall be based on a clear and accurate description of the technical requirements for the material, product or service to be procured. Such a description shall not, in competitive procurements, contain features which unduly restrict competition. "Brand-name or equal" descriptions may be used as a means to define the performance or other salient requirements of a procurement and when so used the specified features of the named brand which must be met by bidder/offerors shall be clearly specified.
- (3) The type of procuring instruments used, e.g. fixed price contracts, cost reimbursable contracts, purchase orders, incentive contracts, shall be determined by the Contractor but must be appropriate for the particular procurement and for promoting the best interest of the program involved. The "cost-plus-a-percentage-of-cost" method of contracting shall not be used
- (4) Subcontracts shall be made only with responsible contractors who possess the potential ability to perform successfully under the terms and conditions of a proposed procurement. Consideration shall be given to such matters as contractor integrity, record of past performance, financial and technical resources or accessibility to other necessary resources.
- (5) All proposed sole source subcontractors, or where only one bid or proposal is received in which the aggregate expenditure is expected to exceed $5,000, shall be subject to prior approval by an appropriate official within the Contractor's organization.
- (6) Some form of price or cost analysis should be made in connection with every procurement action. Price analysis may be accomplished in various ways, including the comparison of price quotations submitted, market prices and similar indicia, together with discounts. Cost analysis is the review and evaluation of each element of cost to determine reasonableness, allocability and allowability.
- (7) Procurement records and files for purchases in excess of $5,000 shall include the following:
- Basis for subcontractor selection;
 - Justification for lack of competition when competitive bids or offers are not obtained;
 - Basis for award cost or price.
- (8) A system for contract administration shall be maintained to ensure subcontractor conformance with terms, conditions and specifications of the contract, and to ensure adequate and timely follow up of all purchases.
- d) Each subcontract shall contain, in addition to provisions to define a sound and complete contract, the following contract provisions, if applicable, as well as any provision within this Contract which requires such inclusion of that provision. Whenever a provision is required to be inserted in a subcontract under this Contract, the Contractor shall insert a statement in the subcontract that, in all instances where JHPIEGO is mentioned, the Contractor's name shall be substituted.
- (1) Contracts shall contain contractual provisions or conditions that shall allow for administrative, contractual or legal remedies in instances in which contractors violate or breach contract terms, and provide for such remedial actions as may be appropriate.

- (2) All contracts shall contain suitable provisions for termination by the Contractor, including the manner by which termination shall be effected and the basis for the settlement. In addition, such subcontracts shall describe conditions under which the subcontract may be terminated for default as well as conditions where the subcontract may be terminated because of circumstances beyond the control of the subcontractor.
- (3) Subcontracts, the principal purpose of which is to create, develop or improve products, processes or methods; or for exploration into fields that directly concern public health, safety or welfare, shall contain a notice to the effect that matters regarding rights to inventions and materials generated under the contract are subject to the regulations included in these contract provisions. The subcontractor shall be advised as to the source of additional information regarding these matters.
- (4) All negotiated subcontracts awarded by the Contractor shall include a provision to the effect that the Contractor, JHPIEGO, or any of their duly authorized representatives, shall have access to any books, documents, papers and records of the subcontractor which are directly pertinent to the specific program for the purpose of making audits, examinations, excerpts and transcriptions.
