“Know Your Alumni Session -55”

Event Category: Know Your Alumni
Topic: Brand Management of Medical Device
Date & Time: 05 th September 2023 & 3:00 pm – 4:00 pm
Venue: LH- 13, IIHMR University.
Details of Speaker: Ms Sakshi Sharma , Business Manager, Translumina Therapeutics, New Delhi
Number of Participants: Total 90+ Students From Pharmaceutical Management -14 , 2 nd year Students
Introduction: The 55th episode of the Know your alumni Series, titled "Brand Management of medical Devices" was held on September 5 th September, 2023, at IIHMR University. This session featured MS. Sakshi Sharma , Business Manager, Translumina Therapeutics, New Delhi Insights, as the guest speaker. The event was moderated by Dr. Saurabh Banerjee, Dean School of Pharmaceutical Management, and student moderator Mr. Soumik Maity from the MBA PM 14 batch. The session focused on how to manage Any Brand in the Medical device sector.
Objective of the Session: To provide insights into brand management of medical devices
In the recent alumni session taken by Sakshi Maam focused on "Brand Management of Medical Devices," participants delved into the critical aspects of brand management within the healthcare sector. The session revolved around understanding what a brand is, effective brand management strategies, the STP (Segmentation, Targeting, and Positioning) framework, maintaining brand image, and the key growth drivers in this industry. 1. What is Brand? The session commenced with a fundamental exploration of what constitutes a brand in the context of medical devices. A brand encompasses not just a product or service but the emotions, perceptions, and trust associated with it. In the healthcare sector, a brand signifies quality, reliability, and patient outcomes. 2. Brand Management Participants discussed the importance of brand management as an ongoing process that involves crafting a unique brand identity, consistent messaging, and a compelling value proposition. Effective brand management is central to creating and maintaining a strong market presence.

3. STP (Segmentation, Targeting, Positioning) Framework

The STP framework was highlighted as a strategic approach to understand and engage with diverse customer segments in the medical devices market. Participants explored the significance of segmenting the market, identifying target audiences, and positioning products to meet specific needs.

4. Maintaining Brand Image

Maintaining a pristine brand image is critical in the healthcare industry. The session emphasized the need for strict adherence to quality standards, regulatory compliance, and transparency in communication. Attendees discussed the importance of post-market surveillance and ongoing customer support to bolster brand credibility.

Growth Drivers

The session concluded with a focus on key growth drivers in the medical devices sector. Participants identified factors such as technological innovation, expanding healthcare infrastructure, and increasing awareness about preventive healthcare as pivotal drivers. Additionally, the growing aging population and the shift towards minimally invasive procedures were noted as significant opportunities for brand growth.

In summary, the alumni session on maintaining brand image in medical devices underscored the multifaceted nature of branding in the healthcare sector. It emphasized the need for strategic brand management, market segmentation, precise targeting, and effective positioning to meet the unique challenges and opportunities within this industry. Moreover, participants acknowledged the importance of vigilance and adaptation in maintaining brand image while capitalizing on the growth drivers propelling the medical devices sector forward.
