“Know your Alumni Episode 62”
TOPIC: Health Insurance Industry – Scope and Career Options
DATE: 7 th September, 2024 from 2:00pm to 3:00pm.
VENUE: New Auditorium- Part A, IIHMR University, Jaipur
SPEAKER: Dr. Kartikeya Sharma (Senior Manager, SBI General Insurance, Jaipur, Rajasthan, India)
NUMBER OF PARTICIPANTS: 105 students from 2 nd year MBA (Hospital and Health Management), MBA(Pharmaceutical Management) and MBA(Development Management) , 66 students from 1 st year MBA (Hospital and Health Management), MBA(Pharmaceutical Management) and MBA(Development Management)
INTRODUCTION: The 62 nd episode of the Know your Alumni titled – “Health Insurance Industry – Scope and Career Options” held on:7 th September, 2024, at IIHMR University. This session featured as the guest speaker Dr. Kartikeya Sharma (Senior Manager, SBI General Insurance, Jaipur, Rajasthan, India). The event was moderated by Mr. Vinod Tejwani, Dean, Placements and Alumni Relations and student moderator Dr. Sreyasi Chattopadhyay from the HM-28. The session focus on “Health Insurance Industry – Scope and Career Options”
OBJECTIVE: The session aims to offer a comprehensive understanding of the insurance industry, focusing on key principles, regulatory frameworks, policy structuring, and risk assessment, while preparing participants for career roles such as medical underwriting and claims management,
Salient Novel Points Covered: ROLE: Dr. Kartikeya Sharma provided an insightful overview of the current landscape of the insurance industry, focusing on its regulatory framework, key terminologies, and various roles and verticals. He delved into the principles governing insurance, with a special emphasis on the investigation of health claims and the components that make up a policy. Additionally, Dr. Sharma highlighted the major players in India's insurance sector, giving participants a well-rounded understanding of the industry's current dynamics. KEY TAKE AWAY POINTS FROM THE SESSION: • Understanding the regulatory structure in the current industry (especially healthcare insurance industry) • Policy constituents • Evolving roles within the sector and how important it is to remain up-to-date with the knowledge of the industry • It is preferred to upgrade knowledge rather than add on to knowledge, although it was maintained that both were of equal importance Q&A and Interactive Session : The session encouraged active participation from students, who not only clarified their conceptual doubts about the insurance sector, but also asked relevant questions about how to co-relate their previous experiences in the insurance industry and progress further in their career.
Future Scope: Participants would gain a deeper understanding of policy structuring, claim investigation, and risk assessment—key skills for medical underwriting. The session also prepares them for roles in health claims management, actuarial analysis, and insurance operations. As India's insurance industry evolves with digitalization and regulatory changes, future sessions could focus on insurtech advancements, data analytics in claims, and personalized health insurance, offering valuable insights into future career opportunities.

VENUE: Basement Classroom, IIHMR University, Jaipur
SPEAKER: Mr Punyarth Singh (SPM Alumnus 2010-12), Sr ASM -Vascular, Teleflex Medical, Jaipur
NUMBER OF PARTICIPANTS: 44 students from 2 nd year MBA (Pharmaceutical Management) .
INTRODUCTION: The 63 rd episode of the Know your Alumni titled “Insights into the Vascular Medical Device Industry” – held on 4 th October 2024, at IIHMR University. This session featured as the guest speaker Mr. Punyarth Singh (SPM Alumnus 2010-12), Sr ASM -Vascular, Teleflex Medical, Jaipur. The event was moderated by Dr Saurabh Kumar Banerjee, Associate professor, SPM IIHMR University, Jaipur and student moderator Ms. Hitisha Kadu from the PM- 15. The session focus on “Insights into the Vascular Medical Device Industry”
OBJECTIVE: The guest lecture on "Insights into the Vascular Medical Device Industry" focused on the latest innovations and technological advancements driving the sector. It will explore the growing scope of the industry, highlighting emerging trends and future opportunities for development. The significance of these technologies in improving patient outcomes and addressing unmet medical needs will be emphasized, showcasing how they enhance the quality of life for patients with vascular conditions. Additionally, the lecture will shed light on the expanding career and market opportunities in this rapidly evolving field.
Salient Novel Points Covered:
ROLE: As an MBA professional in the vascular medical device industry, the role is cantered around strategic management, marketing, and business development. MBA professionals work on identifying market opportunities, developing go-to-market strategies, and positioning products like stents, catheters, and grafts to meet both clinical needs and business goals. They collaborate with R&D teams to align product innovations with market demand, manage product lifecycles, and lead pricing, branding, and promotional activities. Additionally, they are involved in navigating regulatory and compliance challenges, conducting market analysis, and driving sales strategies to expand the market reach of these devices. Ultimately, their focus is on balancing patient needs with profitability, ensuring that cutting-edge vascular devices are successfully brought to market while driving growth and competitive advantage for their companies.
KEY TAKE AWAY POINTS FROM THE SESSION:
• Wide-ranging career opportunities in areas such as product management, marketing, sales, regulatory affairs, and research and development. • Roles focused on driving innovation and developing cutting-edge medical devices to address unmet clinical needs. • Marketing and business development positions involve understanding market dynamics, creating strategies, and launching products. • Careers that require expertise in regulatory compliance to ensure device approvals and safety standards.

- The industry presents strong growth potential, offering continuous opportunities for professional advancement and leadership in a dynamic, evolving field.

Q&A and Interactive Session: The session encouraged active participation from students, who not only clarified their conceptual doubts about the medical device sector , but also asked relevant questions about how to enter into the niche market of medical device in vascular field and progress further in their career.

Future Scope: The future of the vascular medical devices industry is set for significant growth, driven by technological advancements such as artificial intelligence and minimally invasive procedures that enhance patient outcomes. The aging population will increase the demand for vascular treatments, while emerging markets present new opportunities for expansion. The evolving regulatory landscape will also create avenues for innovation in compliance and approval processes. Additionally, the focus on personalized medicine will lead to the development of customized devices tailored to individual patient needs. Overall, the industry is poised for innovation and market expansion, with a strong emphasis on improving patient care and addressing unmet medical needs.

EVENT OUTCOME REPORT

“Know your Alumni Episode 64”

“Know your Alumni Episode 64”
TOPIC: “Building an Innovative Public Health Career in the Digital World”
DATE: 12 th November 2024 4:30 PM to 5:30 PM IST.
VENUE: New Auditorium Part A, IIHMR University Jaipur.
SPEAKER: Mr. Rahul Pandey, Senior Operations Officer World Bank Group, South Asia
NUMBER OF PARTICIPANTS: 121 students from 1 st year MBA (Hospital and Health Management).
INTRODUCTION: The 64 th episode of Know Your Alumni, titled “Building an Innovative Public Health Career in the Digital World,” was held on November 12, 2024, at IIHMR University Jaipur. This session featured a guest speaker, Rahul Pandey (Senior Operations Officer World Bank Group, South Asia). Mr. Vinod Tejwani moderated the event, and the Dean of Placements and Alumni Relations and student moderator Dr. Anirudh Kumar Halder from the HM-29, moderated the event. The session focuses on: “Building an Innovative Public Health Career in the Digital World”
OBJECTIVES: Data Literacy: Develop data analysis and interpretation skills to inform evidence-based decision-making and policy development. Policy Advocacy: Advocate for policies that promote digital health equity and access to technology in underserved populations.
SALIENT NOVEL POINTS COVERED:
ROLE: Mr. Rahul Pandey provided an insightful session on building an innovative public health career in the Digital world. He highlighted the dynamics of the public health industry and how data plays an important role in advancing public health. He also emphasized the various shortcomings and challenges of public health. He also explained how Digital Technology may help overcome health sector challenges and build value, and why digital health records are important.
KEY TAKEAWAY POINTS FROM THE SESSION:
• Understanding the public health industry as a career option. • Evolving roles in this sector and how well knowledge in this sector is going to play an important role. • Effective digital health tools help improve frontline worker's delivery of services and strengthen their capacities. • Comprehensiveness means moving away from an ad hoc solution approach to make a digital part of the health system. • Career options: Healthcare AI and ML, digital and data governance, focus on public policy from a digital lens. • Being a subject matter expert specifically for developing digital tools.

Q&A and Interactive Session: The session encouraged students' active participation and asked them questions about public health as a career. It also asked relevant questions on how to develop their data skills to grow more in this industry and progress further in their careers.

Future scope:

Digital tools will allow for more tailored health interventions, leveraging data from wearables and mobile apps to create personalized health plans. They will also enhance global health monitoring, facilitating faster response to health crises and improved coordination among international health organizations. As digital health expands, there will be a growing need for policies and regulations to ensure the ethical use of data, protect privacy, and address disparities in access.

“Know your Alumni Episode 66”
TOPIC: Journey of a TDR Scholar – Transformation from a Physician to IR Specialist
DATE: 04 th January 2025 from 3:00pm to 4:00pm.
VENUE: IIHMR University, Jaipur
SPEAKER: Dr. Abdirahman Moallim Ibrahim, Implementation Science Specialist, NCD and NTD IR Consultant, Somalia
NUMBER OF PARTICIPANTS: 26 Participants
INTRODUCTION: The 66 th episode of the Know Your Alumni titled – “Journey of a TDR Scholar – Transformation from a Physician to IR Specialist” was held on 04 th January 2025, at IIHMR University. This session featured as the guest speaker Dr. Abdirahman Moallim Ibrahim (Alumni MPH (IS) Cohort 1). The event was moderated by Dr. Piyusha Majumdar , Associate Professor, IIHMR University, Jaipur, and student moderator Dr. Refka Khalid Ali Sallam , Batch: MPH (IS) Cohort-2, IIHMR University, Jaipur. The session focused on the “Journey of a TDR Scholar – Transformation from a Physician to IR Specialist”
OBJECTIVE: The session aims to highlight the transformational journey of Dr. Abdirahman Moallim Ibrahim from a physician to an Implementation Research (IR) specialist, inspiring public health professionals by showcasing the diverse opportunities an MPH (Implementation Science) degree offers. It seeks to provide insights into the role of the TDR program in advancing careers, emphasize the importance of IR in addressing global health challenges, and create an interactive platform for knowledge exchange. Additionally, the session promotes alumni-student engagement, career guidance, and mentorship to foster collaboration and inspire the next generation of public health leaders.
Salient Novel Points Covered: ROLE: Dr. Abdirahman shared a profound overview of his journey as a Cohort 1 student, highlighting the challenges, milestones, and achievements that shaped his career. He discussed the practical application of his research in Somalia, detailing the significant impact it had on local communities. Dr. Abdirahman also reflected on his personal accomplishments, the grants he secured, and the transformative changes he contributed to in his country. He emphasized the importance of early engagement in thesis work, community involvement, and maintaining effective communication with mentors to maximize success in public health careers. . KEY TAKEAWAY POINTS FROM THE SESSION: • Dr. Abdirahman Moallim Ibrahim's Transformational Journey: An inspiring account of Dr. Ibrahim’s experiences and achievements as a TDR Scholar, highlighting his path from physician to Implementation Research (IR) specialist. • Educational Milestones and Achievements: A deep dive into the significant milestones of his academic and professional journey, showcasing his growth and dedication to global health.

- Overcoming Challenges: Insights into the challenges faced as an alumnus, both during and after his MPH journey, along with practical strategies and steps he took to overcome them.
- Guidance for Current Students: Valuable advice for Cohort 2 students on critical aspects such as selecting mentors, choosing impactful capstone and practicum topics, and maximizing their learning experience.
- Exploring Postgraduate Research Opportunities: Discussion on the various available postgraduate research pathways and practical approaches to applying implementation science in real-world settings.
- Public Health Contributions in LMICs: A reflection on the potential for impactful public health work in low- and middle-income countries (LMICs), focusing on Somalia as a case example, to inspire actionable solutions for global health challenges.

Q&A and Interactive Session: The session fostered an engaging and participatory environment, encouraging students to actively interact with the guest speaker. Participants sought clarity on key aspects such as selecting capstone and practicum topics, while also delving into practical strategies for data dissemination within specific contexts in their respective countries. The discussion provided actionable insights tailored to real-world challenges, empowering students to effectively translate their research into impactful public health outcomes.

Future Scope: Participants will gain a comprehensive understanding of navigating the journey from academic research to impactful implementation in public health. The session equips them with practical knowledge on mentor selection, capstone development, practicum planning, and effective data dissemination in diverse contexts. It also prepares students to explore future roles in implementation research, evidence-based policy development, and program design, particularly in low- and middle-income countries. With a focus on Somalia as an example, participants will gain insights into addressing global health challenges and contributing to sustainable public health advancements through innovative approaches and collaboration.

Passion on applying the TDR scholarship

- Worked as a humanitarian doctor treating tropical diseases
- COVID-19 became a turning point
- The field experience during the pandemic exposed gaps in health systems, reinforcing the need for evidence-based approaches.
- Started global health and humanitarian medicine by MSF UK
- Implementation research online course (MOOC IR) on infectious disease of poverty.
- TDR Application (Documentation, recommendation letters, and a statement of purposes).
- Joy and relief upon receiving acceptance

“Know your Alumni Episode 69”

“Know your Alumni Episode 69”
TOPIC: From IS to Global Opportunities
DATE: 03 rd Feb 2025 from 5:00pm to 6:00pm.
VENUE: IIHMR University, Jaipur, India
SPEAKER: Dr. Ameera Bafadhel. Fullbright Humphrey Fellow at Virginia Commonwealth University
NUMBER OF PARTICIPANTS: 22 Participants
INTRODUCTION: The 69th episode of the Know Your Alumni series, titled "From IS to Global Opportunities," took place on 3rd February 2025 at IIHMR University, Jaipur. The session was moderated by Dr. Piyusha Majumdar, Associate Professor and Program Coordinator of the MPH program at IIHMR University. The guest speaker was Dr. Ameera Bafadhel, an alumnus of the first cohort of the MPH IS program at the S.D. Gupta School of Public Health, IIHMR University, Jaipur. The session, coordinated by Ms. Aziza Mohammed, MPH IS student from Cohort II, aimed to emphasize the positive impact that Implementation Science (IS) can have on public health specialists' careers and how it opens doors to global opportunities. Dr. Ameera shared her journey from an IS student to a global health professional, showcasing how the MPH IS program propelled her into diverse international roles.
OBJECTIVE: The primary goal of this session was to shed light on the impact of the MPH IS program on future career opportunities. Dr. Ameera shared key achievements and milestones during her MPH IS journey, highlighting how she built partnerships, attended global conferences, and became involved in organizations focused on IS. She encouraged students to focus on the importance of volunteering and actively engaging with global organizations, which can enhance their careers. Dr. Ameera also emphasized the importance of pursuing opportunities even when students feel they may lack sufficient experience.
Salient Novel Points Covered: ROLE: Dr. Ameera shared her remarkable journey as a student in the first cohort of MPH IS. She discussed the challenges she faced and how she leveraged those challenges to create opportunities for herself. She shared her achievements, particularly her work with UNFPA during her practicum in Yemen on program evaluation, using Implementation Science to ensure evidence-based interventions in real-world settings. Dr. Ameera was also granted the Fullbright Humphrey Fellowship at Virginia Commonwealth University, where she is now deepening her expertise in health policy, evidence-based interventions, and survey methodologies. She plans to return to Yemen to apply the knowledge gained to benefit her community.
KEY TAKEAWAY POINTS FROM THE SESSION: • Dr. Ameera's Transformational Journey: Dr. Ameera shared her inspiring experiences and achievements as a student and now as a Fullbright Fellow. Her story highlighted her transition from a physician to an Implementation Research (IR) specialist.

- Educational Milestones and Achievements:

The session offered a deep dive into Dr. Ameera's academic and professional milestones, focusing on her dedication to global health and the use of Implementation Science.

- Overcoming Challenges:

Dr. Ameera discussed the challenges she faced during and after her MPH journey. She shared the strategies she employed to overcome obstacles and continue progressing in her career.

- Exploring Postgraduate Research Opportunities:

The session included a discussion about available postgraduate research opportunities and how to apply Implementation Science in real-world settings.

Q&A and Interactive Session: The session included an interactive Q&A segment, allowing students to gain more insight into Dr. Ameera's journey. Common student questions focused on time management and balancing participation in conferences, completing practicum requirements, and exploring new opportunities. Students also asked about the differences between the healthcare systems in the US, where Dr. Ameera is currently based, and Yemen. Additionally, students were curious about Dr. Ameera's plans post-Fullbright Fellowship and her vision for public health in Yemen. Dr. Ameera provided encouraging responses, assuring students that their efforts will not be in vain. She emphasized the importance of staying confident, continuously learning, and being proactive in seeking opportunities.
