Executive Summary

Dr. P. R. Sodani

President
IIHMR University, Jaipur

I am delighted to present an overview of the notable events and initiatives that transpired at IIHMR University, Jaipur, during the month of June 2024. The month highlights our commitment to excellence, innovation, and collaboration.

IIHMR University inaugurated the PhD coursework for a diverse cohort of outstanding candidates from various parts of India. Additionally, our Master of Public Health (Cohort-11) students attended the Summer Institute at Johns Hopkins University's Bloomberg School of Public Health in Baltimore, USA, where they had the opportunity to network with peers from around the world and discuss cutting-edge public health practices.

Dr. P. R. Sodani attended Coursera's Future of Higher Education Summit at Coursera Headquarters in Mountain View, California. The event brought together over 100 leaders from more than 25 countries, featuring sessions, workshops, and keynotes. Additionally, our visit to Bhutan fostered new partnerships with key stakeholders in the Bhutanese health sector, including the Health Secretary of Bhutan, the President of Khesar Gyalpo University of Medical Sciences, and WHO Bhutan leaders, exploring enhancements in healthcare practices, primary health care universal coverage, and digital health.

A Management Development Program (MDP) on Healthcare Operations Management, addressing contemporary challenges and exploring innovative solutions in healthcare operations was conducted. Simultaneously, we hosted a seminar on "Quality of Healthcare Management in India: Opportunities and Challenges."

In celebration of World Environment Day, we organized a tree plantation drive on our campus, reaffirming our commitment to environmental sustainability and stewardship. We also observed International Yoga Day, emphasizing the physical, mental, and spiritual benefits of yoga through a series of traditional asanas and pranayama exercises.

Our partnership with UNICEF Rajasthan marked the commencement of the Rajasthan Behavioural Insights (BI) Pilot, focusing on improving maternal nutrition. This initiative brought together representatives from various health and development organizations to share insights and design ideas to enhance maternal nutrition. To bridge the gap between academic concepts and real-world application, we fostered vibrant interactions with industry professionals through Management Development Programs, Master Classes, and Webinars. Additionally, our esteemed faculty played a pivotal role in advancing academic knowledge through noteworthy contributions in research publications.

Expressing our heartfelt gratitude, we extend our thanks to the Board of Management for their unwavering support and guidance
