2. EVENT DETAILS

IIHMR University, as the Secretariat of the South-East Asia Public Health Education Institutes Network (SEAPHEIN), organized the third session of the SEAPHEIN Webinar Series on “Implementation Research in Public Health: From Capacity Building to Impact” on June 12, 2026. The webinar aimed to strengthen implementation research capacity, foster regional collaboration, and promote evidence-based approaches for improving public health outcomes across SEAPHEIN member countries.

The session featured Prof. S. D. Gupta, President, SEAPHEIN and President, IIHMR; Dr. Mahnaz Vahedi, Scientist, Research Capacity Strengthening, TDR (Special Programme for Research and Training in Tropical Diseases), World Health Organization (WHO); and Dr. P. R. Sodani, Secretary-General, SEAPHEIN and President, IIHMR University, Jaipur, with Dr. Vinod Kumar S. V., Dean In-Charge, SD Gupta School of Public Health, IIHMR University, serving as the moderator. The speakers shared global and regional perspectives on building and applying implementation research capacities to optimize health system performance and community-level health interventions.

Key takeaways from the session included insights into leveraging implementation research to strengthen healthcare delivery systems, strategies for multi-country academic and professional collaboration across South-East Asia, and lessons from real-world case studies on translating institutional knowledge into impact on the ground. The webinar provided a focused platform for public health educators, researchers, and practitioners to exchange ideas on integrating implementation research into training, policy, and practice.

Overall, SEAPHEIN Webinar Series #3 reinforced IIHMR University’s leadership role as SEAPHEIN Secretariat and contributed to advancing regional dialogue on implementation research as a critical tool for improving public health outcomes.
