Event Details & Description

The Faculty Development Programme on Ethics and Values was organised as a two-day in-house capacity-building initiative for full-time faculty members of IIHMR University. The programme focused on enhancing clarity, confidence, integrity and ethical decision-making in academic practice, strengthening alignment between personal values and institutional ethos. Sessions covered core themes such as professional ethics in teaching and research, handling conflicts of interest, constructive conflict resolution, respectful communication, and embedding values in classroom and mentoring practices. Pedagogy included expert talks, interactive discussions, case-based exercises and reflective group work, encouraging faculty to share experiences and develop concrete commitments for enhancing ethics and values in their day-to-day roles.
