INTRODUCTION: The Master Class “Consulting & CSR in the AI Era: Emerging Opportunities and New-Age Skills for Future Professionals” was organized at IIHMR University, Jaipur, on September 19, 2026. The session featured Mr. Sidharth Dutta, Partner, Ernst & Young, India, as the guest speaker and was moderated by Mr. N Satheeshkanna, Senior Manager - Placements, IIHMR University, Jaipur along with student coordinators Dr. Aditi Singh and Dr. Ankita Jadhav. The session focused on emerging opportunities in consulting and Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) in the evolving Artificial Intelligence (AI) landscape. It provided students with an industry-oriented perspective on the changing nature of professional roles, the relevance of AI in consulting, and the skills required by future professionals.
OBJECTIVE: The Master Class aimed to: • Develop students’ understanding of the evolving consulting landscape in the AI era. • Introduce students to emerging career opportunities in consulting and CSR. • Help students understand how AI is influencing professional roles and business functions. • Highlight the importance of new-age skills for future professionals. • Provide industry insights into the expectations and capabilities required in consulting careers. • Encourage students to understand the intersection of technology, business, consulting, and social responsibility.
SALIENT NOVEL POINTS COVERED: 1. Consulting in the AI Era: The session explored how the consulting profession is evolving with the growing adoption of Artificial Intelligence and emerging technologies. 2. Emerging Opportunities in Consulting: Students were introduced to the changing landscape of consulting and the emerging opportunities available to young professionals across different business and functional areas. 3. Role of Artificial Intelligence: The discussion highlighted the increasing relevance of AI in professional environments and its potential to influence how organizations analyse problems, make decisions, and deliver solutions.

4. CSR and Social Impact:

The session addressed the continuing relevance of Corporate Social Responsibility and the opportunities available at the intersection of business, consulting, technology, and social impact.

5. New-Age Skills for Future Professionals:

The importance of developing relevant contemporary skills was discussed, with emphasis on adapting to technological changes and evolving industry expectations.

6. Changing Workplace Expectations:

The Master Class provided students with an industry perspective on how professional roles are changing and the need for continuous learning and adaptability.

7. Consulting Mindset:

The session encouraged students to develop a problem-solving and analytical approach relevant to consulting-oriented careers.

8. Industry Perspective and Career Readiness:

The interaction helped students gain a broader understanding of professional opportunities and the capabilities required to prepare for careers in consulting and related domains.

Q&A and Interactive Session: The session concluded with an engaging Q&A session. The session provided students with an opportunity to interact with Mr. Sidharth Dutta and gain industry-oriented insights into consulting, CSR, Artificial Intelligence, emerging career opportunities, and the skills required for future professionals.

CONCLUSION: The Master Class “Consulting & CSR in the AI Era: Emerging Opportunities and New-Age Skills for Future Professionals” provided students with valuable exposure to the changing consulting landscape and the growing influence of Artificial Intelligence on professional careers. The session highlighted the importance of understanding emerging opportunities, developing new-age skills, maintaining adaptability, and building a strong problem-solving mindset. The industry perspective shared by Mr. Sidharth Dutta, Partner, Ernst & Young, India, provided students with practical insights into the evolving expectations of professionals and the relevance of consulting and CSR in the AI era.
