Introduction: - The 110th episode of the Master Class, titled Project Management for Development Professionals, was held on August 27, 2024, at IIHMR University, Jaipur. This session featured Mr. Aditya Choudhary, Program Manager at AU Foundation, and Mr. Rambabu Sharma, Project Manager at Jagriti Sansthan, as the guest speakers. The event was convened by Dr. Goutam Sadhu and coordinated by Dr. Kajal Sitlani, with Ms. Anushka Acharya serving as the student coordinator. The session focused on understanding key aspects of project management, specifically tailored for development professionals.
Objective: - The Master Class aimed to provide students with a comprehensive understanding of project management within the development sector. The session sought to equip participants with practical insights into the implementation of projects, risk management, leadership traits, and the identification of fundamental Key Performance Indicators (KPIs) crucial for successful project execution.
Salient Novel Points Covered: Project Implementation: Both speakers emphasized that effective project management is fundamentally about successful implementation. They highlighted the importance of meticulous planning and execution in ensuring that project goals are met within the stipulated timelines and budgets. Risk Management: A significant portion of the session focused on the necessity of risk management in project management. The speakers discussed various strategies for identifying, assessing, and mitigating risks to minimize their impact on project outcomes. Leadership Traits: The session also touched upon the leadership qualities essential for project managers. The speakers shared insights on how strong leadership can inspire teams, manage stakeholder expectations, and drive projects towards successful completion. Fundamental KPIs: The speakers introduced participants to the concept of KPIs in project management. They emphasized the importance of setting and monitoring KPIs to measure the progress and success of projects.

Q &A and Interactive Discussion: The session encouraged active participation from students, who asked insightful questions about the practical challenges of project management in the development sector. The speakers provided valuable advice on how to navigate these challenges and shared real-world examples from their own experiences.

Future Scope: The future scope of this Master Class lies in its potential to equip students with the essential skills and knowledge needed to excel in project management roles within the development sector. The insights gained from this session are expected to prepare participants to handle complex projects, lead teams effectively, and contribute to the sustainable development goals of their organizations.
