

Report on Alumni Meet – “Maitreya” 2014
held on September 19, 2014
at Royal Orchid Hotel, Jaipur

The Pradanya cum Maitreya Alumni Meet was organized on September 19 at Hotel Royal Orchids Durgapura. This meet was a culmination of friendship, fraternity, learning and sharing.

The meet began with the lightening of the lamp by Dr. S D Gupta, Chairman, Dr. Ashok Kaushik, Dean Academic & Students Affairs), S. K. Puri (Brigadier), Advisor and our distinguished Alumni

Our Alumni were given the traditional welcome with Tilak, sweets and a beautiful welcome flower

In order to express our solidarity and the fraternity bright friendship bands were tied to the Alumni.

In his inaugural address Brig Puri said that Alumni are the brand ambassadors of any organization that it's their pleasure to have our Alumni be a part of this process. He shared that Health Care Management is a career that lets you make a difference in people's lives. It's your job to make sure doctors and nurses give quality care, and to manage the budget so that a hospital or practice can serve as many people as possible.

Speaking about the importance of this Healthcare management Dr S D Gupta said that it requires talented people to manage the changes taking place. In their roles, healthcare executives have an opportunity to make a significant contribution to improving the health of the communities their organizations serve.

The connection between patient care and management practice is the subject of a growing body of research. Aligning the Nature and Management of Health Care. He explained that management professionals have the specialized training to improve hospitals and other healthcare organizations. “Some of the most important innovations are not technologic — they are in the way we organize care delivery,”

Sharing her experiences of the hospital Industry, Ms Sheenu Jhawar, our first batch Alumni said that in a time of rapid change in the healthcare system, it's no surprise that hospitals across the country are examining new patient care delivery approaches. In many cases, business professionals with management experience are driving innovation. She shared that according to experts at the Harvard Business School (HBS), healthcare managers are the “missing link” when it comes to the debate surrounding healthcare reform. The skills and ideas that healthcare managers bring to the table provide a fresh approach with significant patient benefits.

The Alumni shared their industry-based experience and introduced themselves to the budding manager. He shared that now, managers are combining business expertise with an understanding of the healthcare system to increase both efficiency and effectiveness. With rapid innovation and reform, the organization and delivery of care have become central to the management of hospitals and other organizations.

This is because both patients and the federal government expect results that only skilled management professionals can deliver.

The audience enjoyed the interactive sessions on thematic issues like Role of Health care professionals, the strategisation for better delivery, Importance of HMIS and the Changing health care industry etc.

Dr Kaushik requesting the alumni to constantly be a part of the reformation and development of their Alma Mater
