Know Your Alumni – Episode 69 (Journey of a TDR Scholar – From Implementation Science to Global Opportunities)

IIHMR University, Jaipur, is pleased to announce the upcoming session of the Know Your Alumni Series – Episode 69, focusing on the theme “Journey of a TDR Scholar – From Implementation Science to Global Opportunities.”

This session will highlight the transformative role of Implementation Science in shaping global public health careers and showcase pathways to international academic, research, and professional opportunities. The speaker will share insights on building partnerships, engaging with global organisations, and leveraging academic learning to address real-world health challenges.

The session will be delivered by Dr. Ameera Bafadhel, Fulbright Humphrey Fellow at Virginia Commonwealth University and an alumna of the MPH Implementation Science program at IIHMR University. The interaction aims to inspire students to explore postgraduate research opportunities, global collaborations, and leadership roles in public health.
