DATE: 23rd September 2026 (Wednesday)

VENUE: IIHMR University, Jaipur, India

SPEAKER: · Dr. Swarnpreet Singh – Associate Vice President, ICICI Lombard, Mumbai

NUMBER OF PARTICIPANTS: 322 Participants

INTRODUCTION: An Industry Leadership Talk on "How to Maximize Your Campus Potential: From Campus to Corporate – Your Career Transition Playbook" was organised at IIHMR University on 23 September 2026. The session was conducted by Dr. Swarnpreet Singh, Associate Vice President, ICICI Lombard, who shared practical insights on preparing students for a successful transition from academic life to the corporate world.

The discussion focused on the realities of campus hiring, organisational expectations from fresh graduates, workplace culture, performance management, communication skills, networking, and career planning. Through interactive discussions, practical examples, and corporate experiences, students gained a clearer understanding of how to maximise campus opportunities and build long-term employability.

OBJECTIVE:

- To understand how organisations recruit and evaluate fresh graduates through campus hiring.
- To learn the key differences between campus life and corporate work culture.
- To develop an understanding of professional communication, responsibility, and workplace expectations.
- To explore the importance of performance management, networking, and career planning.
- To prepare students for interviews, placements, and long-term professional growth.

Salient Novel Points Covered:

1. Campus Hiring as a Unique Opportunity

The speaker highlighted that campus placements provide students with opportunities that are often difficult to access through off-campus recruitment. Companies visiting campuses are already interested in hiring students, recruitment processes are comparatively faster, and students gain exposure to numerous organisations within a short period.

2. Why Organisations Hire Freshers

The session explained that organisations recruit fresh graduates because they bring:

- Fresh perspectives and innovative thinking.
- Exposure to emerging technologies.
- Standardised learning backgrounds.
- Easier onboarding and training.
- Long-term talent development potential.

3. Campus vs Corporate Mindset

A major discussion compared academic life with professional life, demonstrating that success in corporate environments requires a significant shift in mindset.

Campus	Corporate
Learning takes place	Learning while earning
Future foundation	Career building
Greater personal freedom	Higher responsibility
Exams drive evaluation	Daily performance evaluation
Practical exposure is limited	Practical work is continuous
Individual-focused	Highly interconnected

4. Adjusting to Corporate Work Culture

Students were encouraged to prepare for workplace realities, including organisational hierarchy, changing expectations, structured work cultures, and greater accountability. The speaker explained that adapting to these changes is an essential part of professional growth.

5. Professional Communication

The session emphasised that communication in corporate settings differs significantly from college interactions.

Important aspects discussed included:

- Clear professional communication.
- Appropriate workplace language.
- Effective interpersonal interactions.
- Communicating confidently during interviews and workplace discussions.

6. Time Management and Responsibility

Unlike campus life, where schedules are largely predefined, corporate employees must independently manage multiple responsibilities, prioritise tasks, and consistently meet objectives. The speaker emphasised that ownership and accountability become increasingly important after joining an organisation.

7. Understanding Business Contribution

One of the most thought-provoking discussions focused on how organisations operate as businesses. The speaker explained that while every department performs important functions, organisations ultimately depend on revenue generation and measurable contribution. This discussion encouraged students to develop a commercial mindset and understand how every role contributes to organisational performance.

8. KPI and Performance Measurement

The concepts of Key Performance Indicators (KPIs) and performance accountability were explained as essential parts of corporate life.

Key messages included:

- Every role has measurable expectations.
- Performance is evaluated across all departments.
- Targets exist even in non-sales roles.

- Accountability applies throughout one's career.

9. Interviews as Selling Yourself

One of the strongest messages of the session was that interviews are fundamentally about demonstrating personal value. The speaker explained that candidates must confidently communicate their achievements, skills, and experiences to convince recruiters of their suitability for a role. Rather than simply answering questions, students must learn the art of presenting themselves effectively.

10. Building Professional Networks

The importance of networking was highlighted as a long-term career investment. Students were encouraged to build meaningful professional relationships with alumni, industry professionals, and peers to support future career opportunities.

KEY TAKEAWAY POINTS FROM THE SESSION:

- Campus placements offer significant advantages over off-campus hiring for fresh graduates.
- Organisations seek fresh talent that can adapt, learn, and contribute value.
- Corporate life demands greater responsibility, accountability, and practical application of knowledge.
- Professional communication and workplace etiquette are essential career skills.
- Time management and ownership become critical after entering the workforce.
- Every role involves measurable performance through KPIs and organisational expectations.
- Interviews are opportunities to effectively communicate one's strengths and potential.
- Networking plays an important role in long-term career development.
- Continuous learning and adaptability are essential for sustained professional success.

Q&A and Interactive Session:

The session concluded with an engaging discussion where students actively interacted with the speaker on topics including:

- Campus versus off-campus recruitment.
- Organisational expectations from fresh graduates.
- Performance measurement through KPIs.
- The importance of business contribution.
- Interview preparation and confidence-building.

- Career growth and long-term employability.
- Adapting successfully to corporate work culture.

The interactive format encouraged students to reflect on real workplace scenarios and better understand the transition from academic life to professional careers.
