Governor Haribhau Bagade, addressing convocation of the Institute of Health Management Research in Jaipur on Saturday, there should be no compromise made in their education.

Bagade said that

NAAC accreditation of all universities in the state and quality in higher education is his priority. "Educational institutions should not limit students to only the knowledge of textbooks but should also teach them about life behaviour," he said, adding that students should develop a method of giving exams based on their understanding.

Bagade said that this will reveal how intellectually capable the student is. He also called upon the youth to play an important role in 'developed India'. He also awarded medals and degrees to the students.
