Event Details & Description: National Librarian's Day 2025 was celebrated on 12th August 2025 to honour the birth anniversary of Dr. S. R. Ranganathan (1892–1972), the distinguished scholar known as the Father of Library Science in India. His pioneering contributions, such as the Five Laws of Library Science and the Colon Classification system, continue to guide library professionals across the world. In recognition of his lifelong service, Dr. Ranganathan was awarded the Padmashri by the Government of India in 1957.

On this occasion, the Library Department curated two special book displays:

1. Works authored by Dr. S. R. Ranganathan, showcasing his significant contributions to the field of library science.
2. A curated collection of Indian Knowledge System (IKS) books, covering diverse areas such as philosophy, science, medicine, and literature, highlighting India's rich intellectual traditions and their relevance to modern learning.

The event was well-received by faculty members, staff, and students, who visited the displays with enthusiasm. Many engaged in thoughtful discussions about Dr. Ranganathan's legacy and the value of integrating indigenous knowledge systems into academic and research pursuits.

The celebration of National Librarian's Day 2025 not only paid tribute to Dr. Ranganathan's invaluable contributions but also promoted awareness of India's vast knowledge heritage. The initiative reaffirmed the library's role as a center for learning, innovation, and cultural preservation.
