Event Details & Description:

The Centre for Clinical Research, IIHMR University, Jaipur organized a focused training program titled “Training for Ethics Committee Members and Clinical Research Professionals” on 17 January 2026 in online mode. The training aimed to strengthen understanding and practical application of the New Drugs and Clinical Trials Rules (NDCTR) 2019 and ICH–Good Clinical Practice (ICH-GCP) among Ethics Committee (EC) members and clinical research professionals.

Sessions covered the regulatory framework of NDCTR-2019, roles and responsibilities of sponsors, investigators and ECs, composition and functioning of ECs, review procedures, documentation, protocol deviations, and safety reporting requirements. Dedicated modules addressed ICH-GCP principles, participant rights and safety, informed consent, quality assurance, and oversight of adverse events and serious adverse events. An interactive Q&A segment allowed participants to discuss real-world challenges, regulatory inspections, audit preparedness, and harmonisation of ICH-GCP with Indian regulations.

The training successfully highlighted the central role of Ethics Committees in safeguarding participant rights and ensuring ethical and scientific quality in clinical research. Participants appreciated the practical orientation and regulatory focus, and many expressed interest in future advanced and refresher programs.
