Event Details & Description

Overview

The Global Health Management Research Conference (GHMRC) 2026, organized under the banner of "PRADANYA" by IIHMR University, Jaipur, was a two-day international conference focused on exploring the transformative role of Artificial Intelligence in global health systems. The conference brought together healthcare professionals, academicians, researchers, industry leaders, and policymakers to discuss innovative approaches to health management through AI integration.

Conference Objectives

- To explore AI-driven innovations in global health management
- To facilitate knowledge exchange among healthcare stakeholders
- To build partnerships and collaborations for advancing health research
- To address challenges and opportunities in integrating AI with healthcare delivery
- To promote sustainable and ethical AI implementation in health systems

Conference Tracks

The conference was structured around four key thematic tracks:

- Track 1: Transforming Community Health Through AI and Behavioural Science Integration - Focused on convergence of AI and behavioural science for community health transformation, including risk identification, targeted interventions, and frontline worker support through adaptive programmes.
- Track 2: AI for Sustainable Development, CSR & ESG Performance Measurement - Explored how AI transforms organizational measurement and delivery of sustainable development, CSR, and ESG commitments through data integration, transparent impact analysis, and automated reporting.

- Track 3: AI for Market Access, Forecasting & Pharma Commercial Excellence - Examined AI's role in reshaping pharmaceutical market access, demand forecasting, supply-chain resilience, and provider engagement while balancing commercial excellence with affordability and global health priorities.
- Track 4: AI in Population Health Management & Predictive Care Pathways - Discussed AI's central role in population health management through integration of clinical, behavioural, and environmental data to forecast disease burdens and enable early intervention.
