Activity Title: Visit of Prof. David M. Dror

Date & Duration of activity (Days): 30 January 2026; 1 day

Venue of the Activity: IIHMR University, Jaipur (Campus)

Event Details & Description

Professor David M. Dror, a noted economist, policy innovator and Founder of the Micro Insurance Academy, visited IIHMR University, Jaipur for an interactive engagement with faculty, students and researchers. The visit formed part of the university's ongoing efforts to expose students to global thought leadership in health financing, micro-insurance and social protection.

During the session, Prof. Dror shared insights from his extensive work on community-based health insurance and innovative risk-pooling mechanisms for low-income and informal-sector populations. He discussed challenges in designing fair and sustainable micro-insurance schemes, the role of data and evidence in shaping policy, and lessons from field implementations across different countries.

The interaction included a moderated discussion followed by an open Q&A, where students and faculty raised questions on designing insurance products for vulnerable communities, integrating primary healthcare and financial protection, and implications for India's health systems and Universal Health Coverage. The dialogue encouraged participants to critically reflect on health financing models and to link classroom learning with real-world policy innovation.

The session concluded with key takeaways on the importance of context-specific designs, community engagement, and long-term sustainability in micro-insurance programmes, followed by a formal thank-you and group photograph with Prof. Dror.
