IIHMR University Hosts Webinar on Advancing Healthcare Leadership for Working Professionals Jaipur

IIHMR University organised the first edition of its IIHMRU Webinar Series on the theme "Advancing Healthcare Leadership," aimed at providing insights into its Executive Master of Public Health (MPH) and Executive Master of Hospital Administration (MHA) programmes designed for working professionals. The webinar brought together around 160 participants, including academic leaders, healthcare experts, industry professionals and programme participants, to discuss the changing landscape of healthcare leadership and the growing need for specialised education in the sector. The session featured Dr. P.R. Sodani, who highlighted the university's vision and the structure of the Executive MPH and Executive MHA programmes. He emphasised that the programmes are designed with flexibility, interdisciplinary learning and practical application to help professionals balance higher education with their ongoing careers. The webinar also included insights from Dr. Anshul Yadav, who shared experiences from his professional journey, and Lakshmi Sripada, who discussed her learning experience as an Executive MPH participant. The interactive session was specially curated for healthcare professionals, administrators, clinicians and public health practitioners aspiring to move into leadership roles. Participants also engaged in a live Q&A session and explored career advancement opportunities through the programmes.
