2. EVENT DETAILS

Dr. Nathaniel O. Brown, Director of the Counseling Program and Assistant Professor, School of Education, Johns Hopkins University, Mount Washington Campus, USA, visited IIHMR University, Jaipur, on 7th August 2026.

During his visit, Dr. Brown held meetings with Dr. P. R. Sodani, President, IIHMR University, and Mr. Ashok Agarwal, Founder Trustee, Indian Institute of Health Management Research. The discussions focused on exploring potential avenues for academic collaboration and institutional engagement between IIHMR University and Johns Hopkins University.

The interaction provided a valuable platform for exchanging ideas on academic cooperation, research, student and faculty engagement, counselling and student-support systems, and other areas of mutual institutional interest. The discussion also highlighted the importance of international partnerships in promoting knowledge exchange, academic innovation, and capacity building.

Dr. Brown's association with Johns Hopkins University and his expertise in counselling and education provided an important international perspective to the discussions. The visit created an opportunity to explore collaborative possibilities between the two institutions and to strengthen IIHMR University's global academic linkages.

Overall, the visit was a meaningful academic and institutional engagement that supported international collaboration, knowledge exchange, and the exploration of future partnership opportunities between IIHMR University and Johns Hopkins University.
